COMPANY UPDATE

Rating: BUY

Ticker: VERB

Price: $0.18

Target: $6.00
(from $10)

Reports Q3 results: Verb recently (on November 14) reported its fiscal Q3 2023 (ending September) results. We note that in June 2023, the company sold its SaaS software business which had been the bulk of its business. The SaaS business has been reclassified as discontinued operations so our historical results and prior estimates will not be comparable with the company's.

Q3 still in transition: Revenue was $0, compared to our estimates of $0.1 million. EPS was $(0.68), compared to our estimate of $(0.60). There was no Q3 guidance or consensus. The results reflect its current early business transition to MARKET.live.

SaaS business sold: The company had announced in November 2022 a review of strategic alternatives. In June 2023, the company divested all of its operating "SaaS business" for $6.5 million.

No guidance: The company did not provide forward guidance.

Adjusting estimates: We are adjusting our 2023 estimates for revenue to $2.3 million, from $2.5 million, and for EPS to $(2.98) from $(5.01).

Focus on MARKET.live: MARKET.live is a multivendor social shopping platform for retailers, brands, manufacturers, creators, influencers and entrepreneurs who seek to participate in an open market-style eco-system environment. MARKET.live is akin to a virtual shopping mall, a centralized online destination where shoppers could explore hundreds, and over time thousands, of shoppable stores for their favorite brands, influencers, creators and celebrities, all of whom can host livestream shopping events from their virtual stores that can be seen by all shoppers at the virtual mall. Every store operator can host livestream events, even simultaneously, and over time there will be thousands of such events, across numerous product and service categories, being hosted by people from all over the world, always on – 24/7 - where shoppers could communicate directly with the hosts in real time to comment or ask questions about products through an on-screen chat visible to all shoppers.

MARKET.live business model: Sales through Verb's ecommerce platform on MARKET.live generates a fee that ranges from 10% to 20% of gross sales, with an average of ~15%. In the past two months, the company has rolled out new features and products and have acquired many new retailers and vendors.

Q3 2022 Market Shopping Festival: The company had a successful Market Livestream Shopping Festival on July 26, 27, 28, 2022. The launch of Market and these major Livestream shopping events has the potential to significantly increase Verb's customer base and revenues.

Balance sheet: In Q3, Verb had $1 million in cash and $3 million in debt. We believe it has enough cash into Q1 2024 so it will need to raise capital soon.

Positive high risks versus rewards: We believe the demand for its marketplace software and services will grow fueled by continued large growth in video e-commerce. We believe the ~billion dollars market potentials presents high rewards for the risks.

Valuation attractive: We are maintaining our BUY rating, but lowering our 12-month price target to $6 from $10, based on a NPV analysis, representing significant upside from the current share price. We believe this valuation appropriately balances out the company's high risks with its high growth prospects and large upside opportunities.

Exhibit 4: Verb's Shopfest (July 26, 27, 28, 2022) Key Data (as of August 2022)

- Total views on Market.live were 45,161
- Total unique views on Market.live were 15,444 (these numbers include those who viewed and shopped storefronts but did not watch a livestream)
- Total attendance for livestreams on Market.live during Shopfest was 8,511 (this number does NOT include attendees who viewed from Facebook and other social platforms)
- Total post-Shopfest video on demand views from storefronts on Market.live as of almost a week ago, last Tuesday, August 9, was 3,408 – I imagine there's probably quite a bit more since then.

Here's some of the data we've compiled so far from the Facebook feed during the 3-days of Shopfest:

- 70,194 views from Facebook during the festival – I want to point out that this is Facebook only and Facebook's metrics that they use for their algorithms. They count a view as anything over 3 seconds.
- Notably, if we include the views after Shopfest, up to last week, we see those numbers jump to 1,219,672. Again, I assume those numbers are much greater now.
- All of the numbers I just provided to you from the Facebook feed are ONLY for the 18 shows we produced. This does NOT include the data from the other 45 livestream shows.
- We had 28,014 RSVPs for Shopfest, almost half of whom opted in for text and email updates for all MARKET livestream events.

I don't yet have confirmed engagement data during each stream, but those who watched every stream and the attendee counters for each stated that the vast majority of viewers remained engaged for more than 70% of the shows' duration and a significant number stayed on till the end of the livestream.

While this data is still being tested and confirmed, it looks like gross merchandise value generated during the event will come in somewhere between $20,000 and $30,000 and the average order size appears to be just over $80. Sales in the stores are still continuing.
