Q3 about inline: Knightscope recently (on November 13) reported its fiscal Q3 2023 (ending September) results. Revenue was $3.3 million (+156% y-o-y), compared to our estimates of $3.0 million. EPS was $(0.11), compared to our estimates of $(0.09). There was no Q3 guidance or consensus estimates.

Strong Q3 growth: The company's solid execution and sales wins drove strong revenue growth. Revenue growth drove operating leverage and improved margins.

No guidance: The company did not provide forward guidance. The company did qualitatively expect to reach profitability by Q4 2024.

Adjusting estimates: We are maintaining our 2023 estimates for revenue of $12.7 million, but lowering it for EPS to $(0.32) from $(0.31).

Focused on security technologies: The company is a leading provider of Autonomous Security Robots ("ASRs") and blue light emergency communication devices consisting of emergency blue light towers, blue light emergency phone ("E-Phone") towers, fully integrated, solar-powered cellular emergency phone towers, and emergency call box systems ("Call Box").

Targeting crime: ASRs conduct real-time on-site data collection and analysis in both indoor and outdoor spaces delivering alerts to security professionals to access the data for investigative purposes. Knightscope's technologies and products are designed to supplement the work of law enforcement and security professionals and are known to be effective in reducing crime.

Market opportunities: In the U.S., there are over 8,000 private security firms and 19,000 law enforcement agencies – a fragmented marketplace relying primarily on human beings for monitoring and patrol activities. Due to recent large rise in crime and labor and shortages issues for public safety officers, the company believes that the market for its technologies will continue to grow.

Revenue growth strong: We believe revenues should increase significantly in 2023/24. We have modeled high revenue growth in 2023 (+125%) and 2024 (+42%) and thereafter to scale up significantly which should drive improved margins and profitability. We expect the company to be profitable in 2025.

Leader in AI: The company is a pioneer in the use of AI (artificial intelligence) for its ASRs. The K3 and K5 ASRs are designed to patrol autonomously (using AI), either randomly or on a scheduled pattern. The ASRs are well developed AI machines with over 2.5+ million hours of operating service logged. In December, the company just launched the 5th Generation K5 ("K5v5") ASR.

Acquisition synergies: In October 2022, the company acquired CASE Emergency Systems for $6.7 million. CASE is a leader in blue light emergency phones and wireless emergency communications technology, providing Knightscope with a strategic entry into a nationwide market.

Positive high risks versus high rewards: Overall, concerns outweighed by growth prospects and valuation. Knightscope's main ASRs and communication products still has long commercialization challenges ahead, but we believe the ~billion dollars market potential presents high rewards for the risks.

Valuation attractive: We are maintaining our BUY rating, but raising our 12-month price target to $4.00 from $3.75, based on a NPV analysis, representing significant upside from the current share price. We believe this valuation appropriately balances out the company's high risks with its high growth prospects and large upside opportunities.

Unit Economics Target

Illustrative Example of Unit Economics
A notional representation based on operating experience thus far and the Company's internal targets

- High annual recurring revenue per unit economics (e.g., luxury automotive) with margins like a SaaS (Software-as-a-Service) business
- While still providing clients a very attractive price point at an effective rate of $0.75 to $9 per hour
- For example, a single ASR can generate ~ $255,000 of revenue over a 5-year period and is either paid up front by the client or financed by a funding partner
- Cash outflows for building of the machine and deployment activities are incurred in year one only
- Support includes maintenance, service labor, parts, shipping, telecommunications and cloud services
- Total cash outflows over the period is ~($84,530) yielding a margin of $170,470 or 67% as an example
